faiths

We learn about other faiths including:

Judaism, Islam, Hinduism, Sikhism, Buddhism
We learn through stories, about festivals and about types of worship and places of worship...

Other faiths

Does it matter what we believe about Creation?

Hindu Creation story

- Based on gods.
- Started with nothing then flowers and grass.
- Animals came before humans.

Sikh Creation story

- Started with a god
- Starts on galaxies and universes.
- Humans came before animals.

Sikhism

Do clothes express belief

Do we judge people based on what they are wearing?

Yes - depends - all black = suspicious

Don't judge verbally but in my head

NO - I don't mind what people wear

Does anything you wear express belief?

- football kit
- band t-shirt
- bright colours
- different trainers

I think clothes do express belief because they tell you what someone is wearing

5 Ks

Yes. Because if you are a part of religion you have to wear certain clothes.

I think the one that is most important because it says you have to be clean, you have to be clean and sometimes it tells you what to believe so it just reminds you to be well behaved daily.

Yes because - some religions have their own clothing that everyone has to wear.

I think the 5 Ks is the most important it shows that they believe in god.

Kanga

Kachera

1) I do not believe that it always expresses being honest you could just wear colorful clothes and that does not show it.

2) The 5 Ks, Kanga, Kachera and Kesh are things that are the most important to show the religion to everyone.

Hindu

Hindu men frequently wear short coats. The woman wears a long scarf or robe.

Hindus carry with them bells, pot of water, a diva lamp, incense burner, and a pot of kum kum powder and a spoon. The items tell us that they stay true to their Hindu religion.

The Hindu dress code applies to men and women. It tells us that they have to wear this every day.

In different countries they wear the same thing.

Hindus and other religions believe that practicing asceticism is not only to the benefit of the individual but also to the benefit of the society as a whole.

This is what Hindu ladies wear when they are going out. To see people they have to dress like this and obey the rules of their religion. Which means they can't do certain stuff.

One of the pictures is one of the Hindu gods. The gods name is Hanuman and it is part human and part monkey. His powers are speed, strength, courage, and wisdom.

Jewish Religion

Dress code

Basic laws are simple, cover knees and the elbows and collar-bone and don't wear anything skin tight

Clothing

This is a Kippah, also called a skull cap, a thin rounded cap, traditionally worn Orthodox Jewish men, and sometimes women. Its use is associated with respecting God.

Do Jewish people in different countries wear different things?

Researching other religions and their dress

Men dress over their heads completely and the area between their arse and knees. They can't be any color with any pattern. Women's Islamic dress conceal the hair and body from their ankles to the neck. Covering the eyes. Islam is very strict.

Men usually wear short coats (jogurtka) and women wear saraf or robes. They carry around 70 beads or they wear necks in garlands. Some muslims have adopted clothing based on western traditions where some wear clothing on the more muslim traditional dress.

Some important items in a muslim are a prayer mat with a compass, the meaning of the 'Shy' 'Or' on head, old words and a 'Or' on around and cover. Muslim have traditional religious authorities and governing bodies within kinds which are some. Muslim and Hindu have belief in supreme power.

Dress code

Muslim men are restricted from wearing the colour yellow. It is traditional for men to cover their head, and between waist and knees.

Women can't show their hair to men. So they use a head scarf. Some muslim women also cover their face to their ankles. Muslim men and women have some similar and some are different.

Muslima

What they carry

The exact number may vary but muslims wear 99 beads. They carry the beads because they need to keep count while saying the prayer. Some suggest the 99 beads also refer to the 99 names of Allah.

Is there any variety within a faith of groups?

However, not all muslims are the same and some other groups of muslims have different cultures but they all share the same religion. There are two kinds of muslim, Suni muslims and Shi'a muslims.

Buddhism dress code

- *There shoulders and knees must be covered
- *Shoes must be removed when entering a temple

Does this Jewish story tell the truth?

The Pit and the Prince

By El Levain

Art by Seth Garmatz

There's a story they tell, when the battle for all other stories has run dry. When the tongue tires of weaving tales of songs and singing songs of heroes; when the heart feels cold and afraid, and nothing seems sufficient to chase away the dark. On days like those, when they've exhausted all other options, they tell the story of the pit.

And the prince who fell into it.

The pit is dark and deep, and the chances of the prince ever climbing out are slim-to-none. For all intents and purposes, the tale is over.

But not for him. His story doesn't end when he falls into the pit.

That's when it begins.

He falls long, falls hard. Bumps his head, scrapes his skin, sprains some bones. To a prince who has only ever known the soft comforts of a palace, the pain is blinding. He comes to a stop eventually, though how far away from the bottom is anyone's guess. The pit is as wide as it is

Can Scaries Tell the Truth?

The Pit and the Prince - A Jewish Story

What truth can you find in this Jewish story?

If I was in the pit, I would calm my self down and know my family will find me.

I saw the truth in a part of the story. At the end something if you get hurt or lost or stuck someone will always save you!

This is at the end.
